

If you lost your ability to earn an income, you could also lose the lifestyle you've created. An accident or serious illness can happen when you least expect it, leaving you unable to work and earn money. Disability insurance through your employer may not be enough, or only cover you for a limited time. Ask about affordable alternatives that cover you 24/7.